

A DIFFERENT KIND OF SPRING IN RYAN PLACE

Ryan Place Residents, I hope this newsletter finds you well. I know that everyone is adjusting to the new normal of staying home until the COVID-19 Pandemic passes. Right now, all spring events have been cancelled. That includes the Easter Egg hunt. The good news is that we live in a beautiful and historic neighborhood. This is the perfect time for long neighborhood walks to get out of the house and soak up some of this gorgeous spring weather.

In this newsletter (with more in the online version) there is a special section for surrounding restaurants to share their curbside menus. Part of the Ryan Place/Near Southside culture is the great restaurants/bars/entertainment venues that we all love to enjoy. These places are struggling mightily now and need our support more than ever. Almost all of them are providing a curbside menu for easy pickup.

Please be patient with them as well. This is new to all of us and many are ramping up the curbside options quickly and getting better at it rapidly.

As schools are out please be vigilant in our neighborhood. We typically see an uptick in crime as school lets out in June, and we are seeing some of that right now. Please keep valuables or anything that might look like a valuable out of your cars. Keep your car doors locked and if possible park in the driveway and not the street. If you see something suspicious or out of the ordinary please call it in! Non-emergency is just fine for something that doesn't require immediate attention ... otherwise call 911. It is always important to call in suspicious activity. The way it works is that more calls equals more monitoring presence in our neighborhood.

Finally, a lot of us are working from home these days, and being a social neighborhood, people want to congregate. I would very much encourage everyone to follow the CDC guidelines when it comes to our interaction. We are working on some things that we will roll out soon to hopefully help with the boredom and keep everyone engaged. More details to come on Facebook, constant contact, and the webpage. I think the bear hunts and scavenger hunts are great ideas!

I am very much looking forward to the next opportunity that we can have another great Ryan Place function once this passes. As always feel free to give me a call or email if you have any questions or concerns.

Don't Mess with Ryan Place Sidewalks

By Jerry Lemunyon, agronomist and neighbor

Recent rains have made a mess on our Ryan Place streets and sidewalks. Because of those bare spots on our lawns and yards, the runoff water is washing our precious soil down onto our walks and street gutters. This sediment (mud) is settling on the sidewalk, making not only a dirty mess, but a hazard for our neighbors. These cautions include:

Muddy boots and shoes tracking dirt while walking our dogs.

Slippery sidewalk surfaces causing poor footing and danger of falling.

Moms with strollers and kids on bikes avoiding the muddy spots, so they travel in the street. Too great a hazard to take!

Wasting our precious natural resource, the soil, while also contaminating the storm water that leaves our neighborhood.

What can we do immediately?

We must stop the hemorrhaging of soil from our lawns. This can be slowed with mulch or stones covering the bare spots.

Contain the soil sediment at the bottom of the lawn slope before it gets onto the sidewalk. Place bricks, or boards, or metal strips above the walkway to trap the dirt.

Scrape the mud off the sidewalk so the neighbors don't have to pass through your mess.

Later this spring and summer we need to:

- Try to control the source of the runoff water, whether it be from the roof, down the driveway, or just from the steep slope of the yard.
- Place permanent edges along the sidewalk to catch any future sediment.
- Consider natural ground cover to renovate those bare spots on your lawn. Keep in mind, big trees and lawn grasses do not live well together.

We can have "lawn days" this spring to meet and discuss what can be done with our bare spots and walkways. How about an evening stroll through the neighborhood to see what many of our neighbors have already done to solve their messy problem?

THE RYAN PLACE CANDLESTICK

Limited quantities are still available!

Ryan Place residents may obtain candlesticks for the online price = $25 each,

Non-residents may purchase the candlesticks for $30 each while supplies last.

Ryan Place is STILL looking for:

- Garage Storage space needed to house and protect our fire truck. The fire truck is a restored 1934 American LaFrance type 399 Pumper built on a GMC truck chassis and is LARGE. Consequently we are looking for a space that can accommodate a vehicle that stands much taller than most vehicles on the road. There has been funding proposed for securing the space under a rental agreement, but no space has been found. If you know of something, please contact us! <https://www.ryanplacefortworth.com/contact>
- A volunteer to help with newsletter distribution. Duties involve one afternoon a month, receiving the bundle of newsletters from the printer's delivery, separating them according to streets, then coordinating pickup by the street directors for their street's distribution. Interested? Please contact us! <https://www.ryanplacefortworth.com/contact>

Everything is COVID-19, SARS-Cov2 or Coronavirus! What's The Difference?

When this latest infection was first reported in China, experts were calling it the "2019 novel coronavirus," which is simply a new coronavirus that had not been previously identified. As time went on, health officials identified it as COVID-19 and now, intertwined with that is SARS-CoV-2.

Because there are many coronavirus types, referring to it simply as "coronavirus" is very general. (...which is to say, too general)

The CDC and World Health Organization (WHO) encourage experts to use COVID-19 when referring to this new disease, a novel (or new) coronavirus that has not previously been seen in humans. In COVID-19, 'CO' stands for 'corona,' 'VI' for 'virus,' 'D' for disease and 19 indicates the year it was discovered.

Just as the general public has become familiar with this terminology, officials have also begun using SARS-CoV-2 in connection with the recent outbreak. Severe acute respiratory syndrome coronavirus 2, shortened to SARS-CoV-2, is actually the virus that causes COVID-19 (the disease). As the name indicates, this virus is genetically related to the SARS-associated coronavirus (SARS-CoV) that caused an outbreak of severe acute respiratory syndrome (SARS) in 2002-2003, however it is not the same virus.

How do all these terms fit together? "Coronavirus" is a generic term that includes a large family of viruses, similar to saying someone has the flu. SARS-CoV-2 is a specific virus that can cause COVID-19, a disease. As WHO explains, this is similar to differentiating HIV and AIDS — HIV is a virus that causes AIDS. Outlined on their website, "People often know the name of a disease, such as measles, but not the name of the virus that causes it (rubeola)."

Sidewalk construction planned for Colonial Parkway, Rogers Road (NOTE: The original meeting has been canceled, but these plans for sidewalks are still pending.)

Sidewalks provide a safe avenue for students walking to school, allow residents a place to run and walk, foster a healthy environment and connect neighborhoods.

The city's Transportation and Public Works Department have postponed a project meeting to inform residents about sidewalk plans along Colonial Parkway from Country Club Circle to Rogers Road and Rogers Road from Colonial Parkway to the Trinity River. The (original) meeting was scheduled for late March 24, at Colonial Country Club, 3735 Country Club Circle. To learn more, contact Project Manager Shweta Rao at 817-392-8022.

The City of Fort Worth is working with area grocery stores to have early access for individuals who are at greater risk to COVID-19. Beginning, Tuesday, March 24, senior adults, pregnant women and anyone with a compromised immune system can visit Albertsons and Tom Thumb for groceries from 7 a.m. to 9 a.m., Tuesday and Thursdays, to buy needed food items.

Stores report plenty of stock and ask that only one family member go to the store and shop for what is actually needed.

This is a recommendation and not a mandate. In addition, the Fort Worth Fire Department will be at these locations to assist customers with carrying out groceries.

"This is just one of the ways that our businesses have been incredible community partners during this time," said Mayor Betsy Price during her Facebook Live broadcast Monday, March 30, 2020.

...and from WIRED magazine:

To Keep Your Home Virus-Free Clean and Disinfect

The first thing you'll want to know is that cleaning and disinfecting are two very different things. The CDC recommends we all do a bit of both, even if nobody in your home is sick.

Cleaning is about removing contaminants from a surface.

Disinfecting is about killing pathogens.

Do both daily if anything or anyone has entered or exited your home.

Transmission from person-to-person is a much greater risk than transmission via surfaces, but the CDC recommends we clean and disinfect high-touch surfaces in our homes at least once daily just to be safe, assuming we have had contact with the outside world in some way, either a person leaving and returning or goods coming in.

Target Your Home's High-Touch Surfaces

Researchers have found that the novel coronavirus is capable of living on surfaces such as cardboard for 24 hours, but up to two or three days on plastic and stainless steel. So cleaning and disinfecting high-touch surfaces is a step we should all take.

High-Touch Surfaces to Clean and Disinfect Daily:

- Doorknobs
- Table surfaces
- Hard dining chairs (seat, back, and arms)
- Kitchen counters

- Bathroom counters
- Faucets and faucet knobs
- Toilets (seat and handle)
- Light switches
- TV remote controls
- Game controllers

Everyone's home is a little different, so just think about the surfaces you interact with most. For me, that includes the above, plus desk surfaces and mousepads (we'll get to gadgets in a bit). Now that you know what you're cleaning, here's how you should do it.

First Clean, Then Disinfect:

1. First, clean the surfaces, removing any contaminants, dust, or debris. You can do this by wiping them with soapy water (or a cleaning spray) and a hand towel.
2. Then apply a surface-appropriate disinfectant. The quickest and easiest way to do this is with disinfecting wipes or disinfectant spray.

CULTURE CORNER

Comfort Reads - by Layne Craig

Well, neighbors, we find ourselves in overwhelming times. While books can be a way to explore new worlds, learn about new ideas, and connect across our differences, one of their functions in seasons of crisis is to simply provide a place of refuge. As the world started to shift a couple of weeks ago, I found myself returning to Avonlea, rereading Anne of Green Gables sequels for a hit of comfort not unlike buttery mashed potatoes or cheese enchiladas with chili and onions. I asked some neighbors on Facebook about their comfort reading of choice, and got some great responses, and maybe some ideas for those casting around for a feel-better book right now.

Kris Savage suggests the Sunday Philosophy Club by Alexander McCall Smith, in part because of its setting in Edinburgh, Scotland. McCall Smith's thoughtful but on-the-light-side mysteries seem perfect for a comfort read. Emily L. Fernandez similarly recommended his No. 1 Ladies Detective Agency series.

Sean Crotty recommends John Steinbeck's Travels with Charley, the "Best American travel book", in my opinion. This book is based on an actual road trip Steinbeck took with his poodle in 1960—the perfect fantasy for your quarantine!

Hayley Spinks will be rereading Barbara Kingsolver, and suggests that during this time, what works for her is to read "familiar voices"—I love this way of putting it, reminding us that our beloved books are old friends.

Finally, Emily Fernandez also recommends Hannah Hunard's Hinds Feet on High Places. This allegorical novel has been compared to Pilgrim's Progress and seems like a great choice as a reminder of spiritual paths through troubling situations.

Stay well and stay home, neighbors—best wishes to everyone during this stressful time.

KEEPING SOCIAL DISTANCES

By Christopher Ebert, neighbor and Senior Columnist

As we go to press, our coronavirus – COVID-19 crisis is still developing. More events are being cancelled; more people are requested to stay inside and being advised to keep a six-foot social distance. In order to add to the over-abundance of advice on how to weather this storm, the following might be helpful or might not!

Grandson shower advice:

Our grandson has always thought his social distancing skills would come in handy someday. He has assumed that:

- 1) most human contact could be accomplished virtually over the internet;
- 2) taking a daily shower was for his sister and other girls, and;
- 3) the more you combed your hair the less time you had for video games.

As it has turned out he was just ahead of his time.

- 1) It is recommended to contact everyone over the internet even when you have a medical question for your primary care physician.

- 2) I noticed that the longer time has passed between showers the greater distance there is between people. At four days three feet is the closest anyone gets to you and when you are "up wind" six feet is the minimum.

- 3) Some of us wish we had enough hair to comb.

Play A Round of Golf

My friend, Jim, and I spent an afternoon not at 6 feet social distance but maybe 60 yards from any other golfers. Now that could have been a result of our golfing ability or maybe the lack of other golfers on the course.

Even when we got close to the flagstick we called the putt a "gimme." Close enough so as to not have to pull the stick out of the hole. Thus protecting us from any virus germs left on the flagstick. Sharing a golf cart is not suggested. Fortunately Jim brought his own. (I wiped the passenger side down with my trusty Clorox Wipes.)

When I was bragging about completing a round of golf without losing any golf balls, Jim reminded me that I didn't hit the ball far enough to lose one!

Croquet Factors

No report from my corner of Ryan Place would be complete without praising the benefits of croquet for the general good health of the neighborhood. 1) Just tell folks you will be on the croquet pitch this afternoon and watch people instantly have more important things to do. 2) Using a croquet mallet to protect your family from people violating the six-foot social distance is a sure way to keep the germs at bay. (Also I have been told it works on vampires, too!)

Sidewalk Chalk

Our chalk is ready. For responses to this article just start writing at the north west corner of S. Adams and W. Robert. Be sure to wipe them down with your Clorox Wipes.
